Dear Internet Guest:

Welcome to the new web site of UA Local 170. This site is intended to assist our Members and Contractors as well as interested parties in understanding the role of our Local and how we service the British Columbia marketplace.

For our Members and Contractors, we have built a special section showing our Job Board and the currently available jobs. This section can be accessed using a private username and password which can be had by contacting our office.

For those who are new to our Local or want additional information, please feel free to browse our site. Your comments are appreciated.

Yours fraternally,

Joe Shayler
